

JUDGE TO PASS ON VERDICT HARRY THAW IS DECLARED SANE

Cry of Jubilation Rises From Lips of Mother

Decision on Freedom to Be Announced Friday

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 14.—After deliberating for an hour only, a jury this afternoon brought in a verdict that Harry K. Thaw, the slayer of Stanford White, was sane. The decision as to what disposition will now be made of him still rests with the court, and Judge Hendrick declared he would announce his decision Friday at 10:30 a. m.

It was a third of a minute after the verdict was announced before Thaw was able to say a word. Mrs. Cople Thaw, his aged mother, who with rigid form and tense glance had hung upon the lips of the jury foreman, rose partially from her chair when the verdict was told.

"It has come at last," she exclaimed. "Oh, my boy! my boy!"

Thaw's roving glance fell at last upon her. He leaped from his chair to her side. Their arms were about each other's necks. Many eyes in the courtroom were met. Thaw turned finally and kissed his sister, who had been supporting his mother.

For a moment the crowd in the courtroom, tense with excitement, seemed about to make a demonstration. Bailiffs rose in various parts of the courtroom. The order was maintained without difficulty.

Thaw turned back toward the court awaiting a decision that he expected would at once set him free. When Judge Hendricks, on the contrary, stated that he would render on Friday his decision on what disposition should be made of the prisoner, Thaw and his attorneys were visibly surprised and displeased. The latter were directed by the court to enter their arguments tomorrow for the client's release.

The jury's finding, by a peculiar construction under which the hearing was held, is not final. The decision as to Thaw's sanity was under the jurisdiction of Judge Hendricks, who summoned the jury to assist him in reaching it. This is still for him to make.

SKETCHES HIS LIFE.

In summing up the case of the state, Deputy Attorney-General Frank Cook sketched the life of Thaw from birth until he was deported from Canada, after his escape from the state hospital for the criminal insane at Matteawan. He recalled to the jury that Thaw had thrice been declared insane and then reviewed the details of his early life. He told of an alleged attempt to stab a fellow student at Harvard University, of his alleged attempt to shoot a cabman and of a fight in an all-night New York restaurant, in which he was hit on the head with a water bottle.

Thaw was insane during all this time," Mr. Cook went on. "He was insane when she shot and killed Stanford White; there is no doubt of that. And the same conditions prevail today. He claims that he is sane. When I ask, did he recover his reason? Was it when he gave interviews to himself while in jail in Canada? Was it when he threw a tray of food on the floor there? Was it when, in a fit of anger, he hurled a beer bottle through a window?"

Mr. Cook repeatedly turned from the jury to hand shook his finger at the sitting five feet away. He referred time and again to Evelyn Nesbit Thaw as "that true virgin of his." Thaw, meanwhile, seemed to be unaware that Mr. Cook was anywhere nearby. He chatted with his counsel and once turned and smiled at a friend sitting among the spectators.

ANDERSON RECALL PETITION FILED BY HEAD OF TAXPAYERS' LEAGUE

Bringing one additional charge to those filed against Commissioner Bacus yesterday, Dr. L. F. Herrick, as president of the Taxpayers' League today filed an affidavit with the city clerk announcing the intention of that organization to circulate petitions for an election for the recall of Commissioner of Public Works Harry S. Anderson.

The additional charges against Anderson are that he has "been interested directly or indirectly in the sale of certain supplies and merchandise to the city of Oakland, the expense, price or consideration of which was paid for or to be paid for from the treasury of the said city of Oakland, such interest in such sale being contrary to and expressly prohibited by section 36 of the charter of said city of Oakland."

The other charges are identical with those brought against Bacus in the affidavit filed by Dr. Herrick yesterday. These are that Anderson has voted to award contracts for municipal supplies to persons other than the lowest responsible bidder; to purchase a dredger at the highest price bid; to pay for advertising and printing rates in excess of the usual business rates; to divert money raised for sale of bonds to other than the pur-

MUSICIANS TO MEET AT BANQUET NOTABLE PROGRAM FOR TODAY

Pianists Hold Important Session

The annual banquet of the California Music Teachers' Association will be held this evening at Hotel Oakland, concluding a day of song recital by noted persons. Alexander Stewart will preside as toastmaster and has assigned responses as follows:

V. O. Lawrence, president of the Oakland Rotary Club, "What Rotary May Do for Music."

Walter Anthony, critic, "Lo, the Poor Music Cried."

Mrs. Martin Campbell of San Francisco, "The Pioneer in Music in California."

$100,000 PAID FOR ENCINAL LAND

For $100,000 cash the forty-one acres on Alameda point belonging to the estate of the late Flora B. MacDermot have been sold by the four heirs to a syndicate of Italian truck gardeners who have farmed the property for the last thirty years, the sale having been acknowledged today by J. B. Lanktree, agent for the heirs.

The deal, which has been pending since last April, was finally consummated when Mrs. Mary MacDermot-Crawford, who is now at her home in the southern part of England, forwarded to this city deeds containing her signature.

Frank Clario, representing the purchasers, has filed petition for a partial distribution in the estate, which will include the property that has been purchased. The consummation of the deal will be made in this manner instead of an order of sale obtained through the probate court, all of the heirs having agreed to the transaction.

THOSE WHO MAY SHARE.

The heirs are, besides Mrs. Crawford, Louis M. MacDermot, Alfred MacDermot and Mrs. Flora MacDermot-Proctor, each of whom will receive a one-fourth share of the proceeds. The property was assessed for

MISS FREIDA FEYCKE (TOP) OF LOS ANGELES AND MRS. JOSEPH WREN OF WACO, TEXAS, WHO ARE IN ATTENDANCE AT THE STATE MUSIC TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

Grape Juice Dinners for Ex-Secretary

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—Grape juice, mentioned frequently in various connections with Mr. Bryan, will figure largely at two dinners at which the former Secretary of State will be the guest at Long Beach and Los Angeles today and tomorrow. Mrs. Bryan, who came with her husband to visit their son William J. Bryan, Jr., and his family at their summer home at Hermosa Beach, also will be entertained.

The first event will be a banquet at Long Beach, preceding a lecture by Mr. Bryan tonight. Mr. Bryan will reach Long Beach late today after a trip to Catalina Island.

"Grape juice and water will be the only drinks," said a Long Beach official.

Tomorrow Mr. Bryan will be at a club dinner here with the unfermented blood of the grape again on the menu. Mrs. Charles E. Sebastian, wife of the mayor of Los Angeles, and various other women citizens will entertain Mrs. Bryan. Afterward Mr. Bryan will deliver a lecture on the "Causeless War" at Exposition Park.

Alleged Naval Spies Are Taken

LONDON, July 14.—Two alleged spies were arrested today and will be tried by court-martial for attempting to communicate information about the British fleet, according to an announcement made today by the British official press bureau.

Charles Farwell Edison—"Harmony and Discords."

Impromptu responses will be made by Horatio Parker, George W. Chadwick and Ernest Kroeger. Arthur Arlett, California commissioner to the Exposition, will represent Governor Johnson at the gathering. He will talk about the fair.

Robert Toombs presided at the "Piano Round Table" held this morning. Members made short impromptu remarks relative to the advancement of the art of piano playing. The balance of the day's program was carried out as follows:

Address, "Phrasing and Phrased Editions," Julius Rehn Weber; address, "Accompaniment Demonstrated by the Use of an Improved Monochord," E. M. Payson; address, "Chromatic Monochord System of Music Notation," David Swing Felter; song recital, Z. Earl Meeker, Edward C. Hoppin, accompanist; Miss Lena Frazer; song recital, Miss Lena Frazer; address by Redfern Mason; recital of Folk Songs, Mrs. Lucia Dunham, Professor Seger Jr., accompanist.

PROGRAM TOMORROW.

The committee called special attention to tomorrow's program. At the Faculty Club grounds, Berkeley, the Beethoven Quintette will be heard. Here, too, Lombardi's Wind Instrument Quintette will appear. Miss Norma Gould, who interprets music by the dance, will be seen in classic interpretative dances. Her numbers will be:

- Humoresque (To a Wild Rose), Macdowell
- Waltz (To a Wild Rose), Macdowell
- A tiny rosebud opens into a full rose only to be torn and thrown to the ground by the cruel winds. After a brave struggle to lift its crippled petals it dies, but not before sending its radiant soul, in the

PRINCE WINS BATTLE

SEEK KEY TO NURSE'S DEATH

Man Hunted Whose Face Is in Locket She Wore

Found With Smoking Pistol by Grandfather at Orinda

Investigations that may result in the unearthing of a queer romance of love and death and lead to an arrest have been started by the Contra Costa authorities as the result of the death of Lena Kleor, the youthful nurse, who killed herself at Orinda Park last night.

After she had shot herself through the heart, the girl was hurried by automobile to the Roosevelt Hospital in Berkeley, in the vain hope that she might still be alive. A picture of a married man, whose name has not been made public, together with other evidence, have led the officials to the belief that an unfortunate love affair is at the bottom of the suicide.

The girl, a beautiful student nurse at the Children's Hospital in San Francisco, was living with her grandfather, J. K. Kleor, near Orinda Park. Her grandfather discovered the suicide last night, when, hearing a shot, he hurried to the girl's room to find her lying on the floor, a smoking revolver beside her.

Calling S. L. Harris, a neighbor, her grandfather rushed the girl in Harris' automobile to the Roosevelt Hospital. She was dead.

The mother of the girl and her stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Loafes, living at 2700 San Pablo avenue, were unable to cast much light on the situation. In the picture in the girl's watch, the family first thought, might have been that of I. Adorovich, a book peddler, but later they said that it was some one else, whom they did not know. The coroner's authorities believe that this picture may be a valuable clue in view of the evidence offered by hospital attendants, physicians and the relatives of the girl.

"We know little of any supposed love affair," declared the girl's mother this morning. "And I am too unnerfed to cast any light on the matter. I know about the picture in the watch—but do not know much about who the man is."

The body is now in the care of Deputy Coroner Berg of Berkeley, but will probably be claimed by the Contra Costa authorities this afternoon on the ground that death occurred in the county.

LEAVES TWO LETTERS.

Two letters left by the girl shed little light on the suicide. The first was dated July 11 and was addressed on the outside, "A word of love to all."

"Mother dear, I thank you indeed for all your kindness to me, and hope that life may be a great joy to you. I do hope you may keep her close to your heart, for you know that Vera is all you have left. I know God, the great giver of joy, truth and love, will indeed forgive me for taking my life. I have asked God to save me, but my will is stronger and I have to do it. I have asked Him to save me for your sake, but mother, darling, my griefs are too big, so dear, forgive me. All my things are for you. Love from your child and love to all. Tell grandmother I will never forget her words."

The second letter was dated July 13. It read:

"God, the great giver of good, will soon show you that this is for the best, and I am sure of it, too. If you only know what is in my heart. Oh, do make the best of it. Just try to forget, darling mother, it just breaks my heart to do it, but I must. Goodbye."

These letters were found under the girl's pillow. The girl was living in a small room in the house in which her grandfather makes his summer home. An autopsy will be held this afternoon by Deputy Coroner Burke.

Says He Left Bombs Around Generous With Explosives Is Writer of Letter

By Associated Press.

BOSTON, July 14.—An afternoon paper announces the receipt of an anonymous communication in which the writer, describing himself as a German spy, states that two bombs have been placed in the state house and another in the custom tower, and that these will be exploded "about Friday." Also the governor is to be killed, according to the message which was crudely lettered with a lead pencil.

It was turned over to the police, who recently examined a similar threat against the custom house without determining whether the writer was a crank or a practical joker.

PROTEST NEW ROUTING OF BELL

Oakland will not see the Liberty bell unless spirited protests, telegraphed to the mayor and council of Philadelphia and to the committee in charge of the historic relic, by the Chamber of Commerce-Commercial Club, bring about a change of the order routing it via the Dumbarton cutoff.

A telegram protesting against the proposed routing that would cut Oakland from the itinerary was wired last night to the bell committee on route with it and to the mayor and council of Philadelphia. This follows:

"Newspaper reports indicate that you are planning to take the Liberty bell to San Francisco from Sacramento by a round-about route via the Dumbarton cutoff instead of through the chief cities of this side of the bay, Oakland, Berkeley and Richmond, and we earnestly request you to make the routing so that it will pass all these cities. This can be done with perfect safety and will cause no delay; in fact,

Tries to Burn His Way Out of Jail

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—Seeing smoke pouring from the cell of Frank Taylor, the "Richmond giant," jailers hurried thither today to find that he had attempted to escape by burning his way out. This was the last of a series of attempts the prisoner has made toward the same end.

This time Taylor used the small oil-heating lamp for tea, with which prisoners are provided. With it he set fire to the boarding in his cell. The jailers found Taylor trying to loosen the bricks, where he had burned off the wooden covering. They extinguished the flames and put Taylor in a safe cell. He is under arrest on burglary charges.

F. W. SHARON SUCCUMBS TO SICKNESS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—Frederick W. Sharon, president of the Palace Hotel Company, the Occidental Land Company and of the Sharon Estate Company, owners of the Palace and Fairmont Hotels, died at 12:30 o'clock today in his apartment in the Palace Hotel.

Death was due to a complication of ailments. He insisted on getting out of bed and had taken only two steps when he fell dead to the floor.

At the bedside were his wife, her brother, Dr. Harry Tevis, Will Sharon, Senator Francis G. Newlands of Nevada and the maids and valets who have been with the family for years.

FREIGHT RATE FIGHT IS LOST

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—The fight made for a restraining order preventing the interstate ruling on California terminals from going into effect today, was lost this morning in the United States District court. As a result, the ruling of the interstate commerce commission on terminals in California will go into effect. This means that San Jose, Stockton, Sacramento and Santa Clara are no longer terminals. The reduced rates to San Francisco, going into effect, leave these cities with a 7 per cent rate increase.

The suit was brought by traffic bureaus of the different interior cities at the time the ruling was made. A week ago a petition for a stay was entered. Notification was wired the attorney-general's office.

Today Judges Morrow, Van Fleet and Sawtelle decided that the telegram was not sufficient notice and threw out the petition. Another set of rate rulings will go into effect, in order of the commission. In August, and the fight on there will also embrace the right against the present order.

The new order affects 100 different commodities as to rates. For instance, steel, the rate on which was 50 cents to San Francisco, is now to be set at 55 cents, but 1 per cent is to be added for shipment to any of the cities not terminals, such as those conducting the fight lost today.

FRENCH ARE BEATEN IN ARGONNE

Terrific Attack Wins a Wide Stretch of Trenches

Italians Capture Two Ports and Occupy Alpine Position

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, July 14, via London, 4:16 p. m.—The German official statement issued today announces that the army of Crown Prince Frederick William yesterday captured French positions in the Forest of the Argonne for a width of three kilometers (1.3 miles) and for a depth of one kilometer, and that they also stormed hill No. 285. The Germans claim they made 2581 prisoners, took two field cannons and rendered eight cannons useless.

AUSTRIANS LOSE TRENCHES

GENEVA, Switzerland, July 14, via Paris, 2:45 p. m.—The Italians have captured two miles of Austrian trenches in the Carnic Alps, according to a dispatch received today by the Tribune from Villach, an Austrian town on the river Drava, 52 miles northwest of Ljubach.

The Alpine troops, these advisers say, dragged their artillery to the heights near Roskofel, which is situated at an altitude of 6400 feet.

The Italians also are said to have captured two important points south of Gorizia.

ARTISANS TO HAVE BUSY PROGRAM

Delegates From the Western States Here to Attend First Convention.

High officials of the United Artisans arrived in the city today, to attend the first annual convention of the order, which will open in the Pacific building, Sixteenth and Jefferson streets, tomorrow morning, and continue to Saturday evening. Between 400 and 500 delegates are expected to be in attendance.

Among the chief officials who have already arrived are the supreme master, H. S. Hudson. Another distinguished member of the organization who arrived today is the supreme judge, Robert G. Morrow, who is a judge of the supreme court of the state of Oregon. Other officials here are Dr. G. C. Eschenbach, supreme medical director, Dr. E. E. Van Alstine, supreme warden, and Mrs. Ella Watt, supreme instructor. All are from Portland, Ore.

Eugene Knevel, the president of the United Artisan 1915 Club, also of Portland, is among those who arrived in the city today, as well as Mrs. J. C. Murray, who is secretary of that organization.

DRILL TEAMS HERE.
The drill teams of the Portland and Salem, Ore., branches of the organization came today. These two organizations will engage in competitive drill with the members of the Oakland team in a contest to be held in the Pacific building, Friday evening. The three teams will compete for a valuable cup, which will be disputed annually. This will be the one of the events of the 1915 gathering.

Close to 50 delegates came today from Salem, while a special car brought in as many more from Seattle and Spokane, Wash. Other delegates will come here from the San Joaquin valley and other interior California points tonight and tomorrow morning. Colorado, Montana and Wyoming will also be represented by delegates.

The delegates will report at the meeting hall in the Pacific building at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning and begin the task of registering. The parade of the delegates and drill teams will be held in the afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock. This will be followed by a business session. Saturday will be United Artisan Day at the Exposition.

Berlin-to-Bagdad Route Progressing

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 14.—The announcement that the two drives of the Bagdad tunnel met today marks the practical completion of the toughest piece of work on the famous Bagdad railway, and is another instance of the work that German engineers are carrying out for the economic development of Turkey. The tunnel is cut through solid granite of such a hard character that about 1500 steel drills were used up daily in each of the two headings. The tunnel is not a very long one, only a little more than three miles, but, owing to the character of the rock and other obstacles it required four years to cut it. It will connect the bay of Alexandretta with points in Mesopotamia considerably to the east of the Euphrates river.

"Harry S. Anderson" is now, and for more than two years last past has been an incumbent of an elective office, to-wit: Mayor of the City of Oakland, and having been elected thereto by popular vote.

The communication from Roscoe D. Jones, president of the civil service board, asking for an analysis of the specific duties to be performed by the revenue expert, a newly created position, was referred to Mayor John L. Davis for a reply. It is in this position that the appointment of C. Stuart MacMillen, known as the "tax ferret," is sought.

A protest was filed by George Swayne, 1230 Seventh street, against the action of the civil service board in rejecting his application to take an examination for elevator operator, as he was under the age limit. He stated that he had been treated unfairly by Commissioner H. S. Anderson, in that having passed highest in an examination for city messenger he had not been appointed. The letter was referred to Commissioner Anderson.

City Warden W. J. Masterson filed his monthly report of business over the city wharves as follows: Number of arrivals, 156; tonnage, 25,483; dockage, $21,325; rent, $1,000; water, $9.90; pile boom, $25; rent, $25. Total, $22,410.

House of Fraumhofer, and the pianists from "Nationality." After the concert, the pianists will hold a meeting at the Hotel Oakland, following the concert, to discuss the program of the evening.

The afternoon program will be held at the Hotel Oakland following the concert, to discuss the program of the evening.

A well balanced program of music and music-lectures consumed yesterday's session. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Anderson, were guests at the concert. Mrs. Anderson, was given a hearty ovation. With her husband as accompanist, Mrs. Anderson rendered the following: "Belin Tanzi," by Arthur P. Anderson, "Where do the Boats," "Faery Song," "Horror's Realm," "The Wind," by Puccini, "Aria from 'Madame Butterfly,'" as encore responses she sang "Helena," by Gretschmann, "Stuttering," by Puccini, "Hughes," "Bessie's Band," by her husband, "Cuckoo Clock," by Grant Schaefer.

HOUR OF FRENCH SONG.
Mme. Sofia Neustadt, Neustadt, prettily dressed in the fashion of the seventeenth century, accompanied by William Carruth, rendered French songs of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, interspersed with remarks. Mme. Neustadt's program follows:

Le Roi a fait battre Tambour; Quand J'allais chez mon Pere; Lisette; Ronde Villageoise; Chantant dans nos Forets; La Bachelere; Lisette Normande; Non, Je ne me marie pas; Les Ballets Maritimes.

YALE PROFESSOR TALKS.
The address, during the afternoon session, was given by Dr. Horatio Parker, professor of music at Yale University. His theme was "The Art of Listening."

Recapitulating the necessary equipment for artistic listening, Prof. Parker said: "First, recognize melody, harmony and rhythm. Try to visualize a melody to recognize intervals. Try to acquire a vocabulary of harmony. Three chords, tonic, dominant and sub-dominant, contain all the notes of the diatonic scale and will help you enormously in hearing harmony if you know them all. Rhythm is felt, perhaps, rather than heard and that ought to be intelligently appreciated. There are two main kinds of rhythm, the divisible by two and those divisible by three. This is musical material."

"Then comes musical form, with sonata form at the head which every intelligent listener must learn to appreciate, followed by countless smaller less important varieties of musical design. Color and design are important. Personal and national characteristics are closely related to color and the physiological basis of music, the spirit in which it is conceived and carried out, is perhaps the most important thing to which the listener can give his attention. He must learn to dread and avoid the vulgar and common, to honor that which is high and noble. Then by all means whenever it is possible, enjoy music at home as well as abroad. I believe listeners cannot fail to become not merely better listeners, but better men and women by cultivating their love of music and by adding to their knowledge of it."

Others who participated in the musical discourses were Professor Seeger of the University of California who talked on "Musical Logic and Modern Harmonic Languages," and Walker Anthony, giving a critic's viewpoint.

Arthur Conrad was the sole attraction at last evening's session of the convention. Accompanied by Mrs. Robert Hughes, Professor Conrad was heard in this excellent program:

Says Mother-in-Law Called Her Chicken

Being designated a "chicken" by her mother-in-law and told that one house was not big enough to hold both, the complaint of May V. Colbath, who today commenced suit for divorce from J. M. Colbath, a civil engineer and proprietor of a rooming house at 715 Eleventh street.

"Who are you, anyway?" the mother-in-law is alleged to have demanded of the plaintiff.
"All my son needs is a little collar with a pink ribbon," she said, and him around by like a little yellow dog; you spend all of his wages. You are what men call a chicken. You put all the makes on your back. This house is not big enough to hold you and me," are some of the cruel things Mrs. Colbath says hurt her feelings and finally lead to her leaving home several days ago.
The couple were married in the southern part of the state on Christmas day in 1908.

Attack Against Frank Causes Uneasiness

By Associated Press.
ATLANTA, Ga., July 14.—Reports that a mob would attempt to take Leo M. Frank, serving a life sentence for Mary Phagan's murder, from the state prison farm at Milledgeville and lynch him, have not been confirmed by developments. Three companies of state militia were held in readiness at Macon throughout the night to proceed to Milledgeville to protect Frank if necessary, but today were permitted to return to their home.
Officials of the state farm reported from Milledgeville that the usual quiet prevailed last night.

U. S. to Protest to Great Britain Again

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 14.—After conferences with representatives of the leading American meat packers today, State Department officials said formal representations would be made to Great Britain for the release of neutral meat cargoes detained by British naval authorities. The character of the representations has not been decided.

Naval Constructor Joins Private Firm

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Secretary Daniels announced today he had decided to resign the position of William B. Ferguson Jr., naval constructor at the Washington navy yard, who will go with a private shipbuilding company.

AKED vs. WAR PLANTS SCATHES U. S. TRADE

NEW YORK, July 14.—The United States, called a "workshop of death," the export of arms and ammunition to allies is severely assailed as "one-sided neutrality" and an embargo on these shipments is urged in a joint proposition by Dr. Charles F. Aked and Rev. Walter Haenschel.

Dr. Aked is a native of England and became an American citizen in 1912. He is the minister of the First Congregational Church in New York. Rev. Mr. Haenschel, a Lutheran, was born in the United States of German parents.

The joint statement reads in part as follows:
"Our country is becoming a workshop of death. This business is highly lucrative and therefore attracts many men to turn out locomotives, air brakes, and typewriters, have been refitted to manufacture guns and shrapnel. The largest banking house in the country is acting as agent and middleman, and profits are so large as to arouse protest to Great Britain."

"This war trade is not for patriotism, but for profit. It exhibits capitalist industry on one of its lowest levels. Our ammunition is known by its killing efficiency. Thousands of lonely graves tell the tale of large dividends running into American pockets."

"Though this business is carried on by private capital for profit only, its magnitude today is such that it involves the Nation."

"A few will pocket the profits, our nation will bear the ill will created by this industry and the sense of shame that may come to us when history writes her verdict on this shameful trade. Our government has the power to forbid the exportation of arms. If the nation is silent it consents to what is done."

"Each nation believes it is fighting for the integrity of its soil, the safety of its homes, the preservation of its historic institutions and its future freedom and greatness. Our war industry gets no justification from the right of self-defense. With us it is a question of cash."

Negress Denies She Branded Boy

Alta McKenna, a diminutive negress, was arraigned before Judge George Samuels today on two charges of battery growing out of the allegations that she branded a six-year-old boy, Frank Anderson, with hot curling irons and that she abused his sister, Emma Anderson, while the two children were at the home of her mother in Seventy-third avenue, East Oakland. Pleas of not guilty were entered for the defendant by her attorney, George Ingraham. The case will be tried July 22.

The girl has the appearance of a child not over 12 or 13 years of age, as she is short of stature and her features are small. Her mother, Mrs. Alice McKenna, informed the court that she was over 15 years of age, a graduate of the Intermediate High School. She declared that her daughter had never shown any signs of animosity against the children and that she believed her guiltless of the charge.

The warrant was sworn to by Mrs. Annie E. McE. Seventy-third avenue, who brought the matter to the attention of the police. The Anderson children have been removed from the care of Mrs. McKenna and placed temporarily in the detention home.

Argument Goes on for United Railroads

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—Attorney William M. Cannon continued the arguments in behalf of the United Railroads before a Presiding Judge Trout today, opposing the setting aside of Judge Sturtevant's order removing the municipal exposition cars from lower Market street. Mayor Rolph was in attendance throughout the session.

Mary Pickford, the foremost screen actress in the world, whose list of triumphs is too great to enumerate, increases the number by her latest characterization, "Little Pal," now playing as the chief attraction of the new program starting today at the Oakland Theatre.

"Little Pal," an Indian maid who attains the supreme nobility of woman through love and sacrifice. It is the first time that Miss Pickford has ever appeared in a picture whose central character is such a type, and in order to acquire the habits and mannerisms of the Indian girl Miss Pickford a few months ago enacted the daughter of a full-blooded Indian in Colorado. For weeks Miss Pickford watched, studied and analyzed the movements of the red maid, imitating them in private, until she was confident that she could portray the character with absolute fidelity and naturalness. Her marvelous mimic powers are evident in her screen presentation of this unusual manner. "Little Pal" is an Alaskan story. On the same program is Max Fisman and Louis Merodah in a film version of the celebrated Park Theatre success "Lost Girl," by Channing Pollock.

JUDGE WILL PASS ON THAW VERDICT

Review of Decision Will Tell if Prisoner Goes Free.

Scattered through the crowd in the courtroom today were many women.

IS HE SANE TODAY?
While Mr. Thaw was speaking United States Senator John James of Kentucky, and others of New Jersey entered the courtroom and took seats on the bench with Justice Peter Hendricks. Both appeared to be extremely interested in the remarks of Mr. Thaw and of J. B. Stanchfield, chief counsel for Thaw who summed up the case of the relation.

Mr. Stanchfield began by declaring that neither he nor the Court was concerned with the previous actions of Thaw.

"The question," said Mr. Stanchfield, "is whether he is sane today. We are not interested in his past performance. I might say, however, that I do not believe he was ever insane."

Comment then took on the remark made on the stand yesterday by Dr. Austin Flint, chief alienist for the state, that "the maniac law does not go here," he said that legally Dr. Flint was right, but that technically he was wrong. He related several cases, among them that of the late General Sikes, in an attempt to show that aroused passion, resulting in killing had often been excused by jurists. Aroused passion and intense hatred of a man who had wronged the woman he loved, said Mr. Stanchfield, caused Thaw to kill Stanford White.

Mr. Stanchfield discussed the case of Thaw in every detail and pointed out to the jury that the McClure commission, appointed to test Thaw's sanity at the time of his first trial for murder in 1907, had found that he was perfectly sane and mentally and physically fit to stand trial on the indictment against him. He also related the finding of the commission appointed by the federal courts to examine Thaw while he was in New Hampshire subsequent to his deportation from Canada.

City Officials Must Punch Clock Earlier

Mayor John L. Davis stated after the meeting of the city council today that he would introduce an ordinance at tomorrow's session making it mandatory upon all employees of the city to go to work at each morning at 9 o'clock hereafter. Should this ordinance become a law, Oakland's city employees, who have always in the past gone to work at 9 o'clock each morning, will report for duty one hour earlier within the next ten days.

"I was at my office at 8 o'clock yesterday morning and worked until 11 o'clock last night," Mayor Davis said. "Every one in the city's employ should work at least eight hours a day, and they'll have to do so when I introduce this ordinance tomorrow, making the day's work in the city hall begin at 8 o'clock and end at 5, with one hour for luncheon."

Striking Workmen Agree to Arbitrate

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 14.—Complete labor peace in Chicago was in prospect today for the first time in years with the announcement that painters and metal workers, who have been on a strike for more than two months, had agreed to arbitrate. More than 10,000 union painters will be affected by a settlement. The striking electrical workers also are expected to agree to arbitration of a wage controversy. Employers and labor leaders are of the opinion that labor peace in Chicago promises to be lasting as a result of recent successes in arbitration in the street car men's strike and carpenters' strike.

Lives of Crew Saved on Abandoned Trawler

By Associated Press.
LOWESTOFT, Eng., July 14.—The crews of four Lowestoft trawlers, the Woodstone, the Purple Heather, the Speedwell and the Merlin, which were taken by a German submarine, have been landed here. The crew of the Speedwell came in on the trawler Emerald, which was attacked by a submarine and was abandoned, but did not sink. After leaving their own trawlers the crew of the Speedwell sighted the Emerald and, knowing it was not a German vessel, they went on board and took her to port.

Britain Calls Halt in High Coal Price

By Associated Press.
LONDON, July 14, 12:32 p. m.—The coal of 1915, which was issued today, specifies that coal may not be sold at a price in excess of a price exceeding their sailings a ton more than the price at which the same kind of coal was sold during the twelve months ending June 30, 1914. The measure was introduced in the House of Commons yesterday by Walter Runciman, the president of the Board of Trade. Violators of the law are liable to a fine not exceeding £500.

EMERGENCY MEASURES ASKED SERVICE BOARD

Appointment of C. Stuart MacMullen Is Requested by City Council

The civil service board last night deferred action on the request of the city council asking the board to appoint C. Stuart MacMullen to the newly created position of revenue expert, and decided to ask for more information as to the duties of the position, in order that it might be properly classified in the city service. The board was directed to communicate with the city council to request a list of the duties to be performed by the revenue expert.

The board sustained the appeal of Patrimoine A. Deardorff from the civil service board's decision to appoint C. Stuart MacMullen to the newly created position of revenue expert, and decided to ask for more information as to the duties of the position, in order that it might be properly classified in the city service. The board was directed to communicate with the city council to request a list of the duties to be performed by the revenue expert.

AUDITORIUM INVESTIGATION.

Considerable time was spent at the meeting last night in an investigation of conditions at the Municipal Auditorium, and a recognition plan was requested of Manager Louis Buckley in the hope of effecting certain economies.

The matter of conserving to emergency or temporary appointments to newly created positions was discussed at length. There were three such requests before the board. They were as follows: From the city council—Temporary appointment of C. Stuart MacMullen as revenue expert.

From the Commissioner of Public Health and Safety, F. F. Jackson—Temporary appointment of B. B. Jones as secretary to the commissioner and of Dr. J. A. Hill to the newly created position of city veterinarian and assistant health officer.

There has been the custom of the board to classify new positions as to duties and rank in civil service before consenting to any appointments, as no check could be kept on the efficiency of an employee to a position in which the duties were ill defined. It is also desired as soon as possible to call examinations for the creation of an eligible list to fill the newly created positions by permanent appointment as soon as may be.

BOARD DELAYS.

"The board does not wish to occasion unnecessary delay in this matter," explained President Roscoe D. Jones. "But we must know what these positions are to do before we can properly classify their positions. We want to do the courteous thing, and I think it would be advisable to ask the mayor to provide us with this information or to have one of the commissioners delegated to do so. Then we can act intelligently."

During the discussion Commissioner Harry S. Anderson entered the meeting room, seeking Ralph York, his chief clerk, and was interrogated by the board as to whether he considered this the proper course. Anderson asked why the board could not immediately consent to the temporary appointment. President Jones explained further:

"You can well see that we cannot assume the responsibility of consenting to such a temporary appointment without having classified the position so that we may see that the appointee fulfills the duties expected of him."

KNOWLEDGE OF DUTIES.

"We must know what these duties are. The ordinance is very broad in its definition of the duties. It says that he shall investigate all matters in relation to the collection, administration or disbursement of the public funds and property and to report his findings to the mayor and commissioner of revenue and finance. From this we cannot tell whether he is to be an expert auditor, a supervising assessor, a price expert, an efficiency expert, a systematizer. We are responsible and must have a better basis than this for classification."

The contention of the board was accepted in the main by Anderson. In the matter of the classification of the two offices to which temporary appointments are requested by Commissioner Jackson, the board decided to have Efficiency Expert W. E. Smith investigate the commissioner to obtain from him a statement of the duties to be assigned the appointees, with a view to using this as a basis of classification. Examinations are to be called in the near future for the places.

AUDITORIUM SITUATION.

In the investigation of the Municipal Auditorium situation, Manager Buckley was asked to convey the complaint that had been made that lemonade vendors were permitted to cry their wares through the audience a few nights ago. Buckley stated that he had already acted upon this matter and had issued an order that would prevent a repetition of the occurrence.

President Jones, in taking up the matter of possible reorganization at the auditorium, suggested that the present organization is "top heavy," in that there is too much overhead expense. A phase of the reorganization plan suggested last night would eliminate Ralph Hill, senior stenographer, and put in his place a man who would have more extensive duties and powers, as a sort of assistant manager, taking Buckley's place when he was forced to be away on other work.

Buckley admitted that at present there was no control of the auditorium. In his absence, and that everybody was to a large extent his own boss when he was away.

PROPER ASSISTANT.

"But I don't think there is a man in the country who keeps closer to the job than I do," Buckley said. "When I have to be away, I keep in touch by telephone, and ring up on the phone at least once a day in the morning, and hand out orders to the staff, and they carry out."

How to Banish Wrinkles Quickly

If your face is disfigured with wrinkles, no matter how deep, you can quickly banish every line, even the most obstinate, by using a simple home-made wash lotion. Merely dissolve an ounce of powdered castile soap in a half pint of water, and add a few drops of lemon juice. Bathe the face in this, and presto—you are free of wrinkles. The secret of your increasing youthful appearance—AFTER-SHAVE.

DOG LICENSES AND TAGS ARE ON HAND

Dog licenses and tags under the new law have been received by the license inspector's office, and are now ready for distribution. Under the new law, which went into effect July 1, every canine in the city must be licensed and tagged. Under the old ordinance only dogs permitted to run at large were tagged. The police will not enforce the new law for several days, giving the dog owner an opportunity to secure the necessary license tags.

Noted Civil War Leader Is Called

BRIGADIER-GENERAL
WILLIAM E. DOUGHERTY.

Following an illness of only a few days, Brigadier-General William E. Dougherty, one of the most prominent living officers of the Civil War and a leader in the affairs of veterans of the struggle, passed away last night at his home, 288 East Fourteenth street. Physicians declare that his sudden death was due to a nervous breakdown. He was 74 years of age.

Brigadier-General Dougherty was a noted figure in the Civil War, having been in most of the big engagements and having risen rapidly in the army through brilliant service. He retired from active service in 1904. It was at this time that he came to Oakland from the east, where he was stationed at the time of his retirement.

He is survived by a widow, R. Louise Dougherty, and a son, Lieutenant Louis R. Dougherty, present stationer in Wisconsin, who has been notified of his father's death and will shortly arrive in Oakland.

Up to a short time before his death, the general, according to friends, was in perfect health. About ten days ago he complained of feeling ill, and from then grew steadily weaker. Mrs. Dougherty was at his bedside when he died. Funeral arrangements will not be made until the arrival of his son from the east.

MAYOR APPOINTS EXPERT FOR CITY

Advisor to China, Cuba and McAdoo to Help Oakland Out.

Availing himself of the power given him under the City Charter, Mayor John L. Davis today appointed John F. Forbes of San Francisco as an accountant to examine the city's accounts, finance and books. Forbes is one of the best known certified public accountants in the West, having recently reorganized the United States treasury department, the fiscal affairs of Cuba and the financial system of China.

Mayor Davis announced his intention of employing an accountant for this purpose a week ago, when he made a special trip to San Francisco for the purpose of consulting with Forbes. In a statement issued by the Mayor when he announced the appointment today, he declares that Forbes' duties will be to determine a manner in which the city's expenses may be reduced. The statement, in full, follows:

"In conformity with my expressed purpose to reduce the tax rate of the City of Oakland, I have secured the services of Mr. John F. Forbes, C. P. A., to make such an investigation into the fiscal affairs of this city as will develop the reason for the present outrageous rates and to suggest methods for its reduction."

"I have requested Mr. Forbes to give special attention to the purchase of lands for parks and playgrounds; to establish the alleged diversion of money derived from the sale of bonds. In fact, I have given Mr. Forbes carte blanche to obtain all that necessary information for the successful management of my promise to the people of Oakland."

"Mr. Forbes is one of the leading certified public accountants of the United States; he is president of the California State Board of Accountants; a member of the faculty of the University of California; a member of the California Bar, a member of the firm of Haskins & Sells, the largest firm of American accountants, and one of the prominent cities of this country and England."

"Haskins & Sells, it will be remembered, were retained to reorganize the United States Treasury Department, the fiscal affairs of the Republic of Cuba, as well as the fiscal system of the Philippine Islands."

"JOHN L. DAVIS,
"Mayor of the City of Oakland."

EIGHTEEN NATIONS TO ATTEND N. E. A. SESSION

Seventeen foreign countries will be represented at the summer convention of the National Education Association, which will open in the municipal auditorium here on August 16 and continue to August 28. This information is contained in a letter received today by Joseph E. Caine, managing-director of the Oakland Commercial Club, from D. W. Springer, secretary of the big organization, at Ann Arbor, Mich.

"Up to date," reads the letter, "we have assurance that seventeen foreign countries will be represented at the convention either by delegates or speakers on the program. I think this is pretty good a view of the war."

ORDINANCES REPEALED; CITY OFFICES SAVED

Harbor Manager, City Engineer and Land Agent May Hold Jobs

The city council acted unanimously today in repealing three ordinances introduced by the new administration during the first days of its control of city affairs, and the announcement was made that several other ordinances which had been passed by the council would be repealed. The repeal of the three ordinances will save the city from the expense of carrying out the provisions of the ordinances. The ordinances were: One repealing the ordinance which provided for the appointment of a harbor manager, one repealing the ordinance which provided for the appointment of a city engineer, and one repealing the ordinance which provided for the appointment of a land agent.

ONLY ONE CLASH.

On the point only there was a clash that resulted in the new administration maintaining its stand. This was the matter of removing the places of deposit in the office of the city clerk from the operation of civil service. This ordinance is one of the few which was carried through and put into operation.

The three ordinances which were voted down today affected the harbor manager, the city engineer, and the land agent. The ordinance repealing the ordinance which provided for the appointment of a harbor manager was carried through and put into operation. The ordinance repealing the ordinance which provided for the appointment of a city engineer was carried through and put into operation. The ordinance repealing the ordinance which provided for the appointment of a land agent was carried through and put into operation.

OFFICES SAVED.

It was informally made known that the plan to create the position of chief municipal engineer to which M. K. Miller was to have been appointed, will probably be abandoned. This means that the office of the chief municipal engineer will be saved.

The council meeting today was enlivened by the announcement of Mayor Davis that he was going to make the Oakland Tribune his new automobile. The Mayor declared that every attack or criticism that might be made of him in the editorial columns of the Tribune would cost him a new automobile. The Mayor would cost him a new automobile. The Mayor would cost him a new automobile.

AUTOMOBILE QUESTION.

The council meeting today was enlivened by the announcement of Mayor Davis that he was going to make the Oakland Tribune his new automobile. The Mayor declared that every attack or criticism that might be made of him in the editorial columns of the Tribune would cost him a new automobile. The Mayor would cost him a new automobile. The Mayor would cost him a new automobile.

FOUR AUTOS EACH YEAR.

"I can save in the same way on the Tribune overcharges and I am going to make the Tribune pay every three months for a new automobile."

"Up to the Tribune every time they hand me one of the editorial columns I am going to hand it back right over the reel and it will cost them $1000 every time."

The Mayor's announcement created a laugh and applause from the galleries and lobby.

The statement made by Mayor Davis concerning the Tribune is absolutely correct. The Mayor has carried out his contract with the city to the letter. It does not care a rap whether it has any public printing. Mr. Davis may be assured, however, that no threat made by him to the Tribune will be carried out.

The three ordinances which were up for repeal today, concerning the harbor manager, the city engineer, and the land agent, were all repealed.

TWO NEW POSITIONS.

An ordinance creating the position of license inspector at a salary of $2100 a year and creating two positions of deputy license inspectors at $1350 each a year, was carried through and put into operation.

An ordinance repealing ordinance 401 N. E., which had placed the duties of license inspector and of deputy license inspectors upon the police department, was also carried through and put into operation.

Not always do I urge a man to smoke Van Dyck. Many men are not ready to smoke so good a cigar.

And others—ah, well, they seem to think good smoking means only much smoking. I pity such and praise to him some far milder domestic cigar.

Myself, I find that great pleasures are far greater when approached with moderation. I would not go to a banquet each night. I hold myself from chatter-boxing talk, for quiet pauses help in the deep talk between friends. I choose not to ride every moment in luxurious automobiles.

I am not always seen with a cigar in my mouth. Even when so, I do not puff rapidly to see how fast it will burn. But when I smoke—why what more need I say than that I smoke Van Dycks?

Southeast Alaska Suffers From Heat

By Associated Press.
JUNEAU, Alaska, July 14.—For nearly ten days Southeast Alaska has been suffering from excessive heat. The sun shines at this time of year 25 hours out of the 24, and the absence of the usual southwest winds has caused weather conditions hitherto unknown to the oldest white or native inhabitant.

The weather bureau thermometer has registered as high as 90 in the shade, and the low point has been recorded in the business section of Juneau. Forest fires are raging along the coast, and the waters in this section have been discharging ice at an extraordinary rate. Fruit and garden truck are growing in unusual abundance.

140,000 INCREASE.
By Associated Press.
BOSTON, July 14.—An increase of 140,000 in the population of Massachusetts in the last five years is indicated in the preliminary statistics of the state taken this morning and made public today. It is estimated that the total population of the state will be about 2,500,000, compared with 2,360,000 in 1910.

Reports and General Business Before Elks

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—Distribution of reports to various committees of the Elks lodge session of the second day of the reunion of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. The report of the committee of state organizations was to be made a special order of the afternoon session.

A floral pageant was one of the entertainment events, coupled with a parade of musical bands visiting the convention. Nearly 100 musicians were in line.

OFFICERS INSTALLED BY FORESTERS COURT

At the last meeting of Court No. 1, the grand jury of the Elks lodge, the following officers for the coming term were installed: President, J. M. Hartley; Vice President, W. M. Hartley; Secretary, J. M. Hartley; Treasurer, J. M. Hartley; and other officers.

PLANS MOVE TO GAIN PUBLICITY OF REORGANIZING

Mayor Calls Conference to Urge Advantages of Oakland.

Mayor John L. Davis today issued a call to various clubs and commercial bodies to name delegates to a conference to be held at a date not yet set to consider means of bringing to the attention of visitors to the Panama-Pacific Exposition the advantages of Oakland and the points of interest within the city. The mayor sent the following letter to the organizations:

"It has occurred to me that it would be advisable to take up at this time the matter of formulating a plan for developing a specific plan for publicity of the advantages of Oakland and the points of interest within the city. The enthusiasm of our own people for their home locality should be stimulated by a concerted effort to bring to the attention of visitors to the Panama-Pacific Exposition the advantages of Oakland and the points of interest within the city. The mayor sent the following letter to the organizations:

Peoples Water Company Committee Renew Meetings Tomorrow.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—The reorganization committee of the Peoples Water Company will hold its first meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. At that time there will be discussed the various phases of the commission's opinion and the recommendations contained therein.

Although the plan of the reorganization committee was put forward with the consent of a large proportion of the stockholders and bondholders of the corporation, and although the Railroad Commission's consent to the plan has been obtained, the committee cannot definitely go ahead with the formation of a new corporation to take over the Peoples Water Company without the consent of the bondholders. This morning John D. Brown, spokesman for the reorganization committee, stated that there was no desire on the part of the committee to do anything that would not be in accord with the wishes of those most vitally concerned.

He said that no appeal would be made out of the railroad commission's approval of the plan of the committee and his associates, but that the committee would go ahead with the formation of a new corporation to take over the Peoples Water Company without the consent of the bondholders. This morning John D. Brown, spokesman for the reorganization committee, stated that there was no desire on the part of the committee to do anything that would not be in accord with the wishes of those most vitally concerned.

11,000 Workers Join Pants Makers' Strike

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 14.—The ranks of the striking pants makers were increased today by 11,000 workers, making the total number on strike approximately 21,000. Of those who went out today 5000 were knee pants makers and 6000 were vest makers.

The mayor's council of conciliation met today to discuss the situation and avert if possible a strike of 5000 women garment workers. The women are acting independently of the men, although the demands are substantially the same—for sanitary shops and restoration of the old wage scale which, it is claimed, has been reduced.

In addition, leaders in the unions of other made garment workers were prepared, they said, to call out approximately 10,000 more men should such a step be thought necessary.

Politician's Father Is Sought in Hills

GRASS VALLEY, July 14.—A large searching party composed of Nevada City and Grass Valley police officers, local Odd Fellows' volunteers and several former rangers today are scouring the Green Horn creek section for 18-year-old Hayden Coggins, who has been lost in that section of the rugged mountain country since last Sunday morning.

Coggins is the father of former State Senator Clifford Coggins of Yreka, Siskiyou county, and Andrew Coggins, official of the North Star Mines Company. He came here several months ago from Yreka to make his home in this city and is not acquainted with the country.

OWNER OF SAVED MILL THANKS FIRE LADDIES

Praise of the Oakland fire department is contained in a letter received today by Chief Elliott Whitehead from J. R. Miller, superintendent of the California Cotton Mills, in which he occurred several nights ago. Miller stated in his letter that the prompt service given by the department saved the mill from serious loss. The letter follows:

"As you already know, we had a small fire at the mill yesterday which might have resulted in a very serious fire, and the writer wishes to thank you in the name of the company for the prompt and efficient service rendered by your fire department. You handled the situation in an admirable manner. The result is that what might have been a serious loss was checked at the start. Yours very truly, J. R. MILLER, Superintendent."

ATTORNEYS IN MERRY TANGLE

Efforts on the part of T. L. Christianson, an attorney, to take a short cut in legal procedure in the probate court today brought to light a highly involved situation in which he is alleged by other attorneys that Christianson sought to take away their client and at the same time placed him in ill grace with the court.

The contest between the attorneys, Johnson and Murphy, representing James Ryan, guardian of the estate of his minor sister, Jeannette Loreta Ryan, came about when Attorney Christianson several days ago filed suit against William Ryan, former guardian and his bonding company to recover $2000 alleged to have been embezzled by him.

Without making an effort to cite William Ryan into court, Christianson filed his action. In accordance with Supreme Court decisions, Attorneys Johnson and Murphy, and Henry E. Spinner, who were originally retained by James Ryan, had caused to be published summons for the appearance of William Ryan and the matter was in court today.

When the case was called it developed that James Ryan was not present as a witness. Attorney Christianson explained that he had advised him to stay away. Attorneys Johnson and Murphy said that they had advised him to be present.

After questioning Attorney Christianson regarding his status in the matter, Judge Wells advised him to have Ryan in court next Wednesday under pain of contempt, otherwise, Christianson threatened to obtain a substitution of attorneys, placing himself on the side of the guardian. The other side declared that they will oppose a substitution and that matter will also probably be passed up to the court.

28,000 Cattle and Swine, Plague Victims

By Associated Press.
HARRISBURG, Pa., July 14.—More than 15,000 cattle and 13,000 swine were destroyed in Pennsylvania in the outbreak of the foot and mouth disease, which is about over, according to a report issued today by the state livestock sanitary board. The cost thus far of eradicating the disease in Pennsylvania is $1,350,000, of which the federal government pays half.

65,000 Ecclesiastics Now Bear Italian Arms

ROME, via Paris, July 14.—According to a Vatican report, there are now about 65,000 Italian ecclesiastics in the Italian army, engaged variously as chaplains, Red Cross workers or soldiers. The cardinal, Cardinal Falconio, former apostolic delegate to the United States, recently visited his ancient Franciscan monastery of San Antonio, where he found more than a dozen fellow monks dressed in military uniform.

Deadly Fence Kills Peasants on Border

By Associated Press.
THE HAGUE, via London, July 14.—Reports received from the Belgian-Dutch frontier are to the effect that many persons are being killed by a high voltage of electric wire which has been constructed by the Germans along the entire border. Every morning, it is asserted, there are found from half a dozen to a dozen charred bodies of Belgian peasants, including women and children, who during the night had attempted to cross the fences and were electrocuted.

$10,000 Compromise Threatens Wingfield

RENO, July 14.—Offering to compromise on the payment of $10,000, George Wingfield today received a second threatening letter from "The Organization," this name being signed to a mischievous letter received last week.

The latest communication, which was received through the mails, declares that no additional warning will be given if the money is not forthcoming. No directions, however, are given as to where the money is to be paid.

PLAN FOR LIBERTY BELL RECEPTION

WEDNESDAY, JULY 14, 1915.

A DEMOCRATIC VIEW OF MR. BRYAN.

The Tribune has had occasion of late to make some critical comment respecting Mr. Bryan and his withdrawal from the cabinet at an important and perhaps fateful period in our negotiations with Germany. Our strictures have been by no means so sharp as those which come from purely Democratic sources. Colonel George Harvey, editor of the North American Review,
may justly be called a Democratic leader in a large and national sense. To Colonel Harvey belongs the credit of suggesting Woodrow Wilson as a Presidential candidate to the people of the United States. Some of the harshest criticism that has been made concerning
Mr. Bryan's recent acts are to be found in Colonel Harvey's article in the North American Review of July.
He is of the opinion that Mr. Bryan's resignation was not caused by the President's conciliatory note to Germany, but that the note furnished merely a pretext and not a reason for withdrawal from the cabinet. "The obvious fact, primarily recognized by the whole country," says Colonel Harvey, "is that the nominal Secretary of State could no longer heed the adjurations
which we urged upon his consideration more than a year ago to the effect that 'when two men ride an ass,
one must ride behind.' Nothing so became him as Secretary of State as his retirement. But it was not the act itself which called for exhortation. It was the manner, the disingenuousness, the chosen time of his doing, that was ignominious. It is idle to attempt to excuse
Mr. Bryan as a sincere adherent of his mistaken convictions or as a victim of his own temperamental inconsistencies. When he assigned a false reason for his performance he declared his hypocrisy and evidenced his malevolence to gratify his passion for notoriety and lucre and incidentally to revenge himself upon the man who had humiliated him. He did not hesitate to strike a foul blow which might easily have constituted
a betrayal of his country."

BRYAN AND THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

Colonel Harvey's denunciation is strong, not to say
violent, in character. We presume that he feels Mr.
Bryan has not only done the country an ill turn, but that he has as well driven a wedge into the Democratic party which may split that organization or bring about its defeat at the polls next year. Colonel Harvey in the same article heartily commends President Wilson
for the manner in which he has conducted our business
with the German government, but he calls him sharply to account for having placed Mr. Bryan in his cabinet as Secretary of State. He puts full responsibility for this act upon the President and says that when Mr.
Bryan was appointed the President had full knowledge
"of his mental incompetency and of his moral delinquencies." He thinks the President is seriously to be blamed for having lauded Mr. Bryan to the skies and for having specifically praised "his character, his justice,
his sincerity, his transparent integrity, his Christian principle." Colonel Harvey strenuously denies that Mr.
Wilson was under an obligation, political or otherwise,
to make Mr. Bryan his Secretary of State. On this point he remarks:

Let us recall for a moment the instance to which we have referred as the chief indication of Mr. Bryan's possession of these admirable attributes which confronted Mr. Wilson. (1) Mr. Bryan demanded and obtained in Nebraska primaries for the election of delegates to the Baltimore convention who should pledge themselves to heed the instructions from the primaries respecting candidates. (2) As a result of the primaries, Mr. Bryan was definitely to support either Clark or Wilson, but he nominated that he would not serve if instructed for Harmon. (3) Clark carried the primaries and Bryan, as an instructed delegate, accepted his commission. (4) Bryan deserted Clark as soon as Clark obtained a majority of the votes in the convention and seemed certain to be nominated, upon the ground that he was unworthy
because he had received the vote of New York. (5) Bryan proposed several candidates who were obviously unavailable, carefully excluding Mr. Wilson's name from his list. (6) Wilson was nominated, not in consequence of Bryan's support but in spite of his subtle efforts to bring the contrary to the contrary. (7) Bryan was nominated for Vice-President of the self-same party which had pronounced unworthy of the Presidency, to which
as Vice-President he might at any moment succeed; thereby
in his flight at possible consequences to himself brazenly
bellying his own professions of virtuous opposition and reveling as a self-seeking marplot, disloyal to a friend,
a repudiator of his own pledges and a betrayer of his own people.

ENUBBED BY THE PRESIDENT.

Concerning the manner in which Mr. Bryan was treated by President Wilson, Colonel Harvey is very emphatic:
It is a simple fact beyond the possibility of successful
dispute that the President has treated a secretary of state
so contemptuously as Mr. Wilson has treated Mr. Bryan, none would have dared to do so; none could have done
so without evoking sharper criticism from press and people. He had ample cause to resign. How long would Thomas Jefferson have continued as secretary of state
after receiving a completed message to a foreign power
with the curt direction to "sign here" and "what would I care? Webster have done it, every morning for four days after the arising of a crisis laden with portents of war, he had been obliged to say that President Fillmore
had not consulted or even communicated with him, the secretary of state? Whither and how quickly would John Hay or Elihu Root have betaken himself if his assistant had been summoned to the Cabinet council because of a plain implication that his chief did not consider him capable?

Colonel Harvey is of the opinion that Mr. Bryan means war. As he somewhat sensationally phrases it,
"he means to torpedo the Democratic party precisely as Mr. Roosevelt did the fatal but has the Republic organization three years ago. Just as there was nothing personal then, so there will be nothing personal now.
The ground of undying grudge is which Mr. Roosevelt felt took his stand was only high. Mr. Bryan is both high and dry. Today it is peace at any price tomorrow it will be prohibition next week when suffrage next month, the next term."

Plainly the Democratic brethren are mightily distressed. Harmony has severed their councils and it is quite out of the question for a feeling again to exist
between Bryan and President Wilson or between Bryan and Champ Clark. Mr. Bryan is strong as an agent of destruction. It is within his power to wreck the Democratic party. He may even make himself that it is his plain duty to do so. In view of this possibility, it seems to us that it would be at least politic on the part of Colonel Harvey and the President's friends to speak softly for the moment. Mr. Bryan, with all his faults, is not the sort of a man who will easily surrender what he believes to be his convictions or who can be driven back into the political camp by the use of a club.

THE GERMAN NAVY AND THE UNITED STATES.

We print on this page today a concise account of the growth and development of the German navy, condensed from a new book by a well-known expert. The article is full of timely significance and to those who have an intelligent interest in the welfare of this country it will offer food for serious reflection. Reference is made to the plan of the German general staff for a hostile invasion of the United States. It must be borne in mind that this plan was drawn up sometime ago and has no special reference to the present diplomatic situation. It is the duty of a general staff to provide offensive and defensive plans for its government. Germany not only has plans for the invasion of the United States but has plans
of a similar nature respecting all of the important countries in the world. Other governments also have plans providing for offensive movements. We have some ourselves, but they refer to possible invasions on our part of some of the Latin-American countries.

The fact that Germany has the plan referred to by the author, Mr. Hurd, does not signify any special ill will or menace on her part. It is all in the day's work.
Nevertheless, the very brief outline of this plan which is quoted gives rise to feelings of discomfort when we consider with what apparent ease the Germans think they could descend upon and capture salient points on our Eastern seaboard. The efficiency of a German attack would be a good deal enhanced at present by reason of the increased radius of action and offensive power of the submarine. It has been demonstrated that a German submarine under its own power can cover a distance equal to that between Europe and New York.

FOREIGN RECRUITING.

Reports from Washington state that the British Ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, has requested of the State Department the view of the American government on British patriotic societies in this country sending men to England to volunteer to enter the army. It is reported that the British government is prepared to enter a most emphatic protest if this practice is held to be illegal.

The Federal statutes narrow considerably the field of discussion. The criminal code prohibits the "enlistment" of "any person" in the United States to fight against the people of a friendly nation. It has been held that endorsing of a medical examination, receiving transportation and pay, and the signing an agreement formally to enroll with the armed forces of a foreign nation constitute "enlistment to the extent of being a violation of the criminal code.

If the men recruited in San Francisco, arrested in New York and returned here for court trial fall within this class of offenders the practice is unquestionably illegal. The United States Court will pass on all the facts of the alleged violations and decide whether illegal acts have been committed. The practice of this government in preventing within its jurisdiction acts of hostility against a friendly nation is so well established that it would seem to render it unnecessary for the secretary of state to express his "views."

The tourist trade balance to the credit of the United States is a big item. Approximately $150,000,000 of the sum normally spent every year by American visitors to Europe is remaining in this country. A considerable portion of this money is being invested in the repurchase
of American securities held in Europe, so that our annual dividend obligations abroad will also be materially decreased. A result of local importance, however, is that thousands of the tourists who were in the habit of taking their vacations abroad are coming to California.
This means a permanent benefit to the coast for they are sure to come back again. It is not likely that the expenditures of American tourists in Europe will reach their former volume for several years to come.

THE GARDEN OF EDEN.

Where British Are Fighting Turks.
The battleground in Egypt where the British forces are opposing the Turks is the site which archaeologists claim to be the spot where the Garden of Eden existed countless centuries ago. The exact position lies between Annah
and Hitt, on the Upper Euphrates, which is now the center of the Turkish-British struggle. The former home of Adam and Eve resounds to the roar of howitzers
and the tramp of armed men.
Many sacred scenes of Bible history are involved in the British campaign against the Turks in the Palestine. One of the most sacred lakes in the world, the Sea of Gennesareth, or the Lake of Galilee, is in the war zone. It lies not far from Nazareth, and it was from that St. Peter and the fishermen of the country gathered their livelihood. Here was also the birthplace of Jesus, famous for his miraculous records.
The hills round Nazareth are now fortified by the Turks, and the sacred ruins
of Capernaum are threatened by mines
and air bombs.
The sites where Moses received the Ten Commandments and all the stirring events of the Israelite wanderings in the wilderness occurred have seen the horrors of war. The Turks are conducting their campaign with utter indifference to the claims of sacred buildings and territory
to be spared from destruction. The village of Gaza, where Samson carried away
the temple pillars, and the town of Hebron,
where Abraham was buried, lie in the path of the retreating Turkish army,
and it is doubtful whether the soldiers
will refrain from destroying these ancient sites, which are revered by Christians all over the world.

THE STORY OF THE GERMAN FLEET.

Admiral von Tirpitz, the Man Who Made the Kaiser's Navy.

A PLAN TO INVADE THE UNITED STATES.

What We Have to Fear—Our Unpreparedness.

The book reviews published by the New York Times in this issue and incorporating material of The German Fleet by Alfred Thayer Mahan.
The story of the German Fleet
Mr. Mahan's latest work is a masterpiece of scholarship and insight into the German mind, for a masterly analysis of the United States. Noting that we have not a single battle ship ready to repel an attack by a German fleet, he points out
a superior force can be based on the Atlantic coast and can enter the Pacific coast, and seize all important arteries
of commerce, producing the unbearable
state of affairs in the whole country that the present will realize. He also points out the conditions in order to obtain peace.
The task of the fleet would be to intercept a series of large landing operations through which we are able to take several of the important and wealthy towns within a brief space of time. By interrupting their communications, by destroying all buildings serving the State commerce and the navy.
The navy that cherishes such ambitions
is of a recent growth that the man who built the first ship is still living. True,
the German cities of the Hanseatic League had a powerful fleet before the days of Columbus, but the present German Navy dates only from the rise of Prussia, and it has become a possible
power on the high seas only since 1895.

VON TIRPITZ.

From that time to the present his ambitious genius has been Admiral von Tirpitz. Born in 1849, and becoming a naval cadet in 1865, Alfred Tirpitz, as he was then called, has risen through every rank
to supreme command. Even in his more obscure years he forced the tactical use of torpedoes upon the German Navy. In 1893 he was made Minister of State and in 1901 received the rank of nobility and the "von" in his name. Mr. Hurd regards him as a sort of Bismarck, Roan and Molke all in one, "the ablest politician, the ablest organizer, and the most far-sighted strategist in the imperial service."

The power of von Tirpitz is due in large part to his smiling and imperturbable diplomacy. No other man since Bismarck
the author says, has shown such adroitness
in the management of the press. Up to 1898 no marine minister has been able to overcome the popular opposition
to a large navy, but the Boer war "generated in Germany an absolutely unprecedented hostility to Great Britain, which was afterward roused to white heat by the seizure of the mail steamer Bunderat and other German vessels on the African coast." Admiral von Tirpitz made skillful use of the opportunity. The German naval program was suddenly doubled,
and for the first time it embraces ships
intended for battle on the high seas.

SUBMARINES.

About this time the British Navy bought
a small submarine boat from the Holland
Company of the United States and began to experiment with it. German comments on it were almost derisive, but by 1906 the Britons had developed submarines that could travel 3000 miles on the surface and 150 miles under water. In that year
the first German submarine was begun,
and now that type of craft has become,
for the moment at least, the most conspicuous arm of the service.
At every step, says Mr. Hurd, the German Navy has been modeled on that of Great Britain. He gives a good deal of space to the revolution in armament caused by the all-glass equipment of the first British dreadnaught, begun in 1905. The Germans were still ordering guns of mixed sizes in each ship. The new armament, putting all such vessels
at a disadvantage, threw their plans into confusion; but after two years they followed suit, and since then the German naval program have gone on increasing at a rate which the British have regarded as a threat. Germany's determination to keep nearly four-fifths of her fleet always on a war footing also has increased the financial burdens of all other naval nations.
A comparable table of British and German shipbuilding programs from the beginning of the dreadnaught period to 1913
shows 43 battleships, 42 armored cruisers,
and 137 destroyers for the British Navy
and 28 battleships, 15 protected cruisers,
and 168 destroyers for the German Navy.
And there was no German Navy at all in the offensive sense, until after the Boer war.

This is a handy and readable account of the rise of the German fleet and of the man who has done more than the Kaiser
to create it.
The reward of $2500 offered by the British authorities for information leading to the destruction of the German
submarines which are reported to be in
the Mediterranean has been increased to £2000.
The Serbians are everything that the Bulgarians are not. Physically they are
fairer and more refined in appearance.
By temperament they are light-hearted,
joyous, frivolous and charming to deal
with.
All minerals belong by law to the Serbian state. Coal and iron are found in
large quantities, as well as gold, silver,
lead, manganese and copper. The entire
manufacture, however, is woven goods,
cotton, card and cigarettes.
The Triple Alliance.
The Triple Alliance of Germany, Austria and Italy, which has now come to an end, has lasted thirty-three years. It was
the outcome of the irritation of Italy
over the French occupation of Tunis in 1881, and in the following year Italy
joined the Dual Alliance, composed of Austria and Germany. The Triple Alliance
was renewed in 1891, in 1902, and
in 1912. It was a defensive alliance, but it had been kept a strict secret, but it has always been understood that it was purely defensive, and only bound the
signatories to support each other in case
of attack. When Austria attacked Serbia
and Germany invaded Belgium and France,
the alliance terminated almost
automatically.
Dwindling Heligoland.
Heligoland, in the North Sea, the formidable German stronghold, is gradually yielding to Nature's forces. Attention has been called to the fact that a map in
a possession of the Geographical Society
shows that its circumference in the year 800 was 125 miles. In 1200 the
distance around it was forty-five miles,
and as early as 1549 it had been reduced
in area to four square miles. Eroded by the sea has been the cause of the gradual recession.

VARIETIES.

The Paradox.

The evanescence that endures:
The loveliness that dies the soonest has
the longest life.
The rainbow is a momentary thing.
The afterglows are ashes while we gaze,
And those soft flames of song
That burn amid the hawthorne-scented hushes of the May
Expire before the senses can fix them.
And motes of moonlight steal across the tender dusk
And fairy flutings wander from the haunted hills.
And tremble, and are gone.
All bloom and fire,
All light and color, scent and sound—
And passion, which is kin to these—
Die almost in the instant of their birth.
They die, and yet they live forever,
For by their very poignance they are deeper into the texture of that eternal stuff
Which is the soul.
And grow to unity with it; and there
The lives which dies the soonest always lives.

War Films.

The French military authorities have arranged for real war films to be taken from the front by the big Paris cinema-graph firms. Four firms—the Gaumont, Pathe, Eclair and Eclair—are sending their operators. It is not likely that the public will be allowed to see the most terrible of the pictures, but it may be permitted to see pictures of stern
realism which will be taken, for the primary object is to store them in the archives of the Ministry of War for future information. Some of the films, however, will be shown to the public, and most of these will also be sold for exhibition
abroad as a counter to the German cinema propaganda.

Optical Telegraph.

A new optical telegraph has been under test by the German Army Signal Corps.
It consists of a small electric flashlight mounted on a binocular field glass or small telescope. A push button controls the flashes, which transmit messages by any code to five miles or more at night,
or a shorter distance by day, and as
the light rays converge very slightly,
the signals are visible only over a very small space. Dry batteries feeding the lamp
are carried in a belt.

Reward.

The reward of $2500 offered by the British authorities for information leading to the destruction of the German
submarines which are reported to be in
the Mediterranean has been increased to £2000.

Balkan Neighbors.

The Serbians are everything that the Bulgarians are not. Physically they are
fairer and more refined in appearance.
By temperament they are light-hearted,
joyous, frivolous and charming to deal
with.
All minerals belong by law to the Serbian state. Coal and iron are found in
large quantities, as well as gold, silver,
lead, manganese and copper. The entire
manufacture, however, is woven goods,
cotton, card and cigarettes.

The Triple Alliance.

The Triple Alliance of Germany, Austria and Italy, which has now come to an
end, has lasted thirty-three years. It was
the outcome of the irritation of Italy
over the French occupation of Tunis in 1881, and in the following year Italy
joined the Dual Alliance, composed of Austria and Germany. The Triple Alliance
was renewed in 1891, in 1902, and
in 1912. It was a defensive alliance, but
it had been kept a strict secret, but it has always been understood that it was
purely defensive, and only bound the
signatories to support each other in case
of attack. When Austria attacked Serbia
and Germany invaded Belgium and France,
the alliance terminated almost
automatically.

Dwindling Heligoland.

Heligoland, in the North Sea, the formidable German stronghold, is gradually
yielding to Nature's forces. Attention has been called to the fact that a map in
a possession of the Geographical Society
shows that its circumference in
the year 800 was 125 miles. In 1200 the
distance around it was forty-five miles,
and as early as 1549 it had been reduced
in area to four square miles. Eroded by
the sea has been the cause of the gradual
recession.

Tune Wanted.

Why haven't any of our editorial friends
who have been "singing" it to the song
"America" thought of suggesting that a new tune be fitted to the words? Or do they believe that the words are the worst
it? The present tune is certainly a lugubrious old chestnut. It is German by origin and English by adoption. We prefer "Yankee Doodle" or "Dixie."—Fresno Mirror.

Remembrance.

Plans are being formulated in San Bernardino for the erection in Pioneer Park
of a monument in honor of the sailors and soldiers, who died in the wars of the nation. The city council has voted $1500 toward the monument and the same amount has been provided by the county.
The money will be raised in the next two tax levies in order to distribute the appropriation.—Riverside Enterprise.

And None Other.

Filing clerks, automobile washers, official housekeepers, assistant probation officers and stenographers are to take civil service examination this month, according to announcements just sent out by the Los Angeles Civil Service commission. The severity of the examination ranges all the way from an investigation of the "general fitness of the candidate for the position of automobile washer,"
to the more rigid test for probation officers and high-speed stenographers.

Pickax Duty.

Men who refuse to support their wives
and families will be sent on a vacation
this summer, with tents, bedding, kitchen utensils, telephone and all necessary equipment is to be provided, but "vacationists" will use it only meal times and nights. The rest of each day they will wield a pickax and shovel on the

This is the decision which has just been reached by the supervisors, who have given Supervisor A. W. Conover authority to purchase all equipment necessary for a prisoner's camp on the San Marcos, to be established before the summer is much older.—Santa Barbara Independent.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The Girls Glee Club gave a party last evening which was very enjoyable.
Games, singing and dancing passed the time away all too quickly. Among those present were Annie Block, Miss Mathias, Mrs. Anton, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Tal-
mer, Miss Shaw, Mrs. Bitterly, G. Lafterly, Miss Dowd, Miss Hurley, Clara
Smith, Miss Lewis, Emma Reier, Laura
Smith, Marie Piper, Mrs. Potter, W.

Mrs. Herkham, Mrs. Smith, Mrs.
Heath, Mrs. King, Mrs. J. Livingston and others.
Miss Ella Dean, Miss Annie Hamilton,
Miss Mary Callaghan and Miss Marguerite Callaghan will leave for Mr. Shasta
in a few days.
There was a quiet but pretty wedding
at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. De Rosa, the contracting parties being William Thompson, first assistant engineer of the steamer Peru, and Victoria De Rosa of Oakland. Among those present were Mrs. J. De Rosa, mother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mrs.
Nightingale, Mr. and Mrs. J. De Rosa,
Mr. and Mrs. Hamelin, Mr. and Mrs.

VILLAGE WRECKED BY CHINESE FLOOD

Three Provinces See Raging
Torrents; Much Damage
Is Done.

HONG KONG, July 14.—The floods raging in the provinces of Kwangtung, Kwangsi and Kiangsi are unprecedented. Entire villages have been swept away by the rushing waters and thousands of natives drowned.

The Szechuan quarter of Canton in which the foreign consulates are located is four feet under water. Business there has been suspended. The West, Fu and North rivers are greatly out of their beds.

At Wusow, Province of Kwangsi, the West river is 79 feet out of its bed. The North river is at a stage of 25 feet at Sanhsin, province of Kwangtung.

In addition to the Szechuan quarter other large districts of Canton are ten feet under water. Thousands of natives in these districts are on the roofs of houses and troops in boats are busily engaged in taking them off and conveying them to high ground. Food is scarce and prices are high.

TOKIO, July 14.—The Japanese government and merchants and bankers here are preparing measures for the prompt and effective relief of the straits and flooded region of China.

Take Lime for Tuberculosis

In the Journal of the American Medical Association (July 27, 1915, page 308), Dr. C. F. Olsen, of Minneapolis, holds that a "deficiency of calcium" is responsible for the physical conditions which lead to tuberculosis, "and the therapy he advocates rests on this basis."

One of the reasons for the widespread success of Eckman's Alternative in the treatment of tuberculosis is its ability to supply this deficiency. It contains a lime salt, in such combination with other valuable agents as to be easily assimilated by the average person. Many cases seem to have yielded to it.

We make no exaggerated claims for it, but prefer that it be tried on the same basis as any other prescription, and since it contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, it is safe.

BIG INCREASE IN JAPANESE ARMY

Yamagata Wins His Way Despite Added Burden Upon
People.

TOKYO, June 11.—Having received authority from the Diet, the government is already making preparations for the creation of two additional divisions in the army, one to be located in Korea and one at Seoul or Pusan and the other at Hanoi. This strengthening of the army which has been a thorn in the side of the opposition since the death of Marshal Yamagata, is the head of the government.

The announcement by Count Okuma, the premier, and General Oka, minister of war, that the increase was but the beginning of a plan to create a military force of twenty-five divisions, has concentrated attention here upon military expansion.

The pending increase has not fed by Count Okuma on the ground that the actual conditions in the world do not permit Japan to neglect her defense program. On the other hand, the expansion of Japanese influence in Southern Manchuria and in Eastern Inner Mongolia which was accomplished by the recent treaties with China constitutes another justification for the increase.

Everybody realizes that the increase means an extra burden upon the people, but no protest is heard. The matter having been decided by the Diet, is accepted by the people at large as a necessary step in the development of their country and as an assurance that Japan may be able to hold her place as a victorious, first-class power in case of attack. Moreover, the great war has aroused the leaders of Japanese thought to the conviction that Japan must be strong if she would maintain her place in the world and that her future in the East lies in her military power.

WORD OF FATHER MAY MEAN LEGACY

Children of Plural Wives Must Be Recognized, to Inherit, Jurist Rules.

By Associated Press.
OGDEN, Utah, July 14.—Their children born of plural wives cannot be legally recognized as heirs unless they have been acknowledged by the father as his children in the construction placed by Judge James A. Howell on the Utah statutes affecting polygamy, brought out in his instructions to the jury considering the case of Albert Geddes or Eccles against the David Eccles estate, by which the sixteen-year-old son of Mrs. Margaret Geddes is endeavoring to establish his right to the Eccles estate by claiming that David Eccles was his father by a plural marriage in 1884 and that he acknowledged him as his son.

Copies of the instructions were made public this morning having been given to the jury and to be presented in writing when arguments are concluded on Thursday evening. Judge Howell, who formulated the instructions, is a Mormon, as are also the plaintiff and defendant in the suit.

The judge instructed the jury to only consider evidence regarding the alleged plural marriage reflecting the possibility of the acknowledgment having been made. His decision as to the law is considered by attorneys to affect the children of all plural or polygamous marriages which the court decided were not legal.

SACRAMENTO, July 14.—Responses to a series of questions sent out by Superintendent of Public Instruction Edward Pratt indicate that the average life of State books in the upper grades of the primary schools of the State is four years, and in the first two or three grades two and three years.

Pratt indicates that the average life of State books in the upper grades of the primary schools of the State is four years, and in the first two or three grades two and three years.

The average life of text books varies considerably in different localities, according to the principals of the schools. Some place the life of the text books at three and some five years, but the majority estimate that the supply will have to be renewed every four years. All declare the older pupils exhibit pride in using the books, and that the usage is particularly high in the first two or three grades.

MILTON, July 14.—That Rev. W. A. Watts, Methodist minister of this city, hypnotized his daughter, Miss Genevieve Watts, is the declaration of the father, Edward Watts, who said today that otherwise his daughter would never have closed with the marriage.

"My little girl would never have gone away of her own accord," said Rev. Watts, "and I feel certain that the Rev. Mr. Watts exerted a malignant hypnotic influence over her."

The statement of the father of the girl, whose mother is still ill in the hospital from nervous breakdown, came on the heels of the emphatic denial by the preacher's wife that she had consented to his elopement.

In a signed statement, Mrs. Watts says: "The papers wrong me when they say I consented to, or knew that my husband was going with Miss Buns. He told me that he was not going with Miss Buns, but that he never expected to see her again. She left one day before he did and he said he didn't know what she was doing. He said he was afraid of his father, who told me he was going somewhere and he told me he was going somewhere and he told me he was going somewhere."

BOMB IS SENT TO 'MOVIE'
STARPackage of Sealed Gunpowder
Delivered at Hotel, Causes Alarm.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—When Francis X. Bushman, moving picture idol, arrives in San Francisco today his facial expression will be watched with extreme care, for Bushman's countenance may tell whether or not a deadly bomb was deliberately prepared in an effort to slay him, or whether a clever press agent has penetrated a gigantic hoax on a gullible public.

The police are inclined to believe that a publicity man's yarn, pure and simple, lies at the bottom of the discovery of a quantity of explosive in a box at the St. Francis Hotel last night. On the other hand, H. Reichman, the advance agent of the actor, declares that he is innocent of the perpetration of any such scheme and the fact that gunpowder composed the bomb would seem to indicate that at least a semblance of reality was given to the plan.

Bushman is en route here from Los Angeles. His press representative has already arrived. A mysterious package was left for the movie star last night, and when it was opened it was found to contain gunpowder. The police yelled "press agent," but the undeniable fact remained that a partly burned fuse, a quantity of loose powder and a note indicated that somebody meant business. The package was left at the St. Francis Hotel last night.

"To Francis X. Bushman. We will meet in heaven for one love. Often I read you dead. I will be dead too. You never answered my letters with my life. Am true to you. God will join us in heaven. H. G."

A beautiful young woman is said to have handed the package to a clerk who turned it over to House Detective Blake. The latter discovered the contents to be gunpowder.

Bushman is clever at facial expression but it is believed that if there has been a genuine attempt upon his life and if he has not been a party to a clever publicity scheme he will show it on reaching his hotel today.

CAPTURE VILLA TOWN

CARRANZA CHIEF IS MAGNANIMOUS
HOW MEXICO CITY FELL
CAPITAL CAPTURED; FOES FORGIVEN

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The first narrative account of the capture of Mexico City was received here today by General Carranza's agency from Vera Cruz. It states that the early engagements in which it was reported Carranza troops were defeated, were minor fights, during which General Gonzalez was distributing his arms for the final effort.

"The actual fighting began Thursday morning, July 8, at Tepic and until the finish the Constitutional forces gained consistently and unflinchingly," says the report. "The fighting of July 8 did not end until the enemy were behind their entrenchments at the Grand Canal and at Corro Gordo. There was a heavy artillery bombardment of Corro Gordo all day, but none of the shells reached the city proper, owing to the distance."

FIGHTING WITH CANNON.
"At 4 o'clock on the morning of July 9 fighting was renewed with heavy artillery fire which shortly silenced the enemy artillery. Immediately the Zapata guns had ceased firing an infantry charge was ordered and after a severe fight the entrenchments of the Zapata forces were carried and the Constitutional soldiers smashed their way into Villa de Guadalupe. In Guadalupe, General Gonzalez immediately established general headquarters and while this was going on more heavy fighting was under way and a strong force on the east side of the city assaulted and carried Penon Hill and continued the advance until the outgoing houses of the city proper were reached."

"On the morning of July 10 General Gonzalez advanced victoriously into the city, followed by reconnoitering parties, when it was found that the enemy had evacuated. During Saturday night a strong force of constitutionalists was detached to pursue retreating Zapata soldiers, who were overtaken at Tlalpam and defeated. At 10 o'clock on the morning of July 11 the constitutional forces under General Machuca entered Mexico City only to find that the officials of the so-called convention government had fled in panic to Cuernavaca."

MANIFESTO OF ORDER.
"At once General Gonzalez issued a manifesto, made public yesterday, with regard to the conduct of the city during the period of pacification and readjustment. He also issued the decree of amnesty for all military and civil offenders. In the four days of fighting the enemy's losses were more than 3,000 killed and many more wounded and missing."

"No representations have been made since the capital was occupied asking for moral support of the United States, but some move along that line is not unexpected."

"Another column of Villa forces meanwhile, according to advices to his agents here, is continuing the campaign toward Mexico City. After the capture of Queretaro yesterday it is claimed they completely isolated Obregon from his base of supplies."

A statement issued on authority from General Villa denies emphatically the report that he is to relinquish his position as commander-in-chief in favor of General Jose Robles or that there is any movement along such lines as to resign at this juncture."

VILLA EVACUATES TOWN.
By Associated Press.
EL PASO, Texas, July 14.—A Carranza report on army movements today stated that Villa has evacuated Aguas Calientes, retreating to Zacatecas. General Alvaro Obregon's army is reported to be at Penoles, ten miles south of Aguas Calientes.

Only a week ago Villa forces were making for the capital, Mrs. Gonzalez said.

BRITAIN MADE CAPTIVE.
C. C. Dalmain, an Englishman, and foreman of the Piedra Blanca ranch in Northern Coahuila, was taken captive last Thursday by Mexican forces. He was held for ransom by the Carranza army. A demand was made for $2000 in gold, with a threat of execution unless the money was paid by Monday. Dalmain's brother rode 120 miles on horseback to get a message to the ranch owners in this city and the money was sent from here Saturday. It should have been delivered to the Mexicans Monday. Up to late last night no word had been received that the captive had been released.

BRITAIN MADE CAPTIVE.
C. C. Dalmain, an Englishman, and foreman of the Piedra Blanca ranch in Northern Coahuila, was taken captive last Thursday by Mexican forces. He was held for ransom by the Carranza army. A demand was made for $2000 in gold, with a threat of execution unless the money was paid by Monday. Dalmain's brother rode 120 miles on horseback to get a message to the ranch owners in this city and the money was sent from here Saturday. It should have been delivered to the Mexicans Monday. Up to late last night no word had been received that the captive had been released.

SALTILLO IN CARRANZA'S
HANDSConstitutional Chieftain Offers

to "True Path."By Associated Press.
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 14.—

Capture of Saltillo, Mexico, was claimed in a message from Nuevo Laredo received at the Carranza consulate here early today. Details were lacking and no mention was made of the casualties on either side nor prisoners taken.

Saltillo was lost a month ago by the constitutionalist, garrison under command of General Luis, Gutierrez to Orestes Pereyra, a Villa commander. Gutierrez was forced to retreat and await reinforcements. These were sent him by General Trevino and with a force of 2,000 men he moved on to Saltillo.

Mrs. Pablo Gonzalez, wife of General Gonzalez, who, with their four little children, is living here, today received an invitation from the general to join him at the national palace in Mexico City. The family will leave in a few days via Vera Cruz for the capital, Mrs. Gonzalez said.

Boy Shoots His Friend for Penny
No Pay for Ice Cream,
Cause of AffrayBy Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, July 14.—

Louis Gills, age 13, was under arrest today, charged with having shot Earl Grant, age 6, who had only a penny to pay for a 5-cent ice cream cone. The Grant boy was not seriously injured.

Gills went out peddling ice cream. Grant was one of the first customers. When he offered his penny Gills refused to accept it. Grant thought that getting a cone and keeping his penny was good business and promptly returned with another child with a demand for more ice cream. According to officers, Gills thereupon drew a small pistol and fired a bullet, which struck the Grant boy in the head and glanced off.

EXPECTS TO LONG SEARCH
DIE, SAYS
BECKER
MADE FOR
TREASURE"I Have No Illusions," Says
Condemned Man to Priest.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Charles Becker looked straight into the eyes of the Rev. James B. Curry, rector of St. James' church yesterday, and said with quiet intensity:

"Father, I have no illusions, no false hopes for the future. I know I am going to die. The state considers it is killing a convicted murderer, but I shall not die like a murderer. I have nothing on my conscience and I shall walk to the electric chair just as fearlessly as I walked into danger many times when I was in the service of the people of New York City."

The words of the convicted man, who was sentenced to hang for the murder of a man, were heard by a large number of people in the death-house in Sing Sing into silent admiration.

Becker's physical presence seemed to dominate the double-tiered little cell house.

While he and Father Curry were talking there came the sound of splashing water from the adjacent bathroom and the gruff orders of a guard.

"Another poor devil has come to join us," remarked Becker. "He'll be panned up like the rest of us until death ends his misery. I have seen many of them come into this place and a good many of them go out through that door there. I know some of them were innocent. One of those Chinamen they killed some time ago was innocent. I am sure of it."

Clear in mind, Becker brushed aside all the legal straws with which his attorneys' fashion bricks for his house of hope.

"Of course I am not going to give up until the very last call comes," he asserted. "But I am not a fool. I know what the odds are. Nevertheless I sleep at night like a babe. My conscience is clear. I shall not flinch at the end."

The condemned man renewed his request to Father Curry to be present at the execution. Although it will be the first execution he has ever witnessed, Father Curry gave the promise.

"I felt it my duty," he said last night. "It will be a terrible thing to see a man like Becker die. He will die like a king. And nothing can convince me he is guilty."

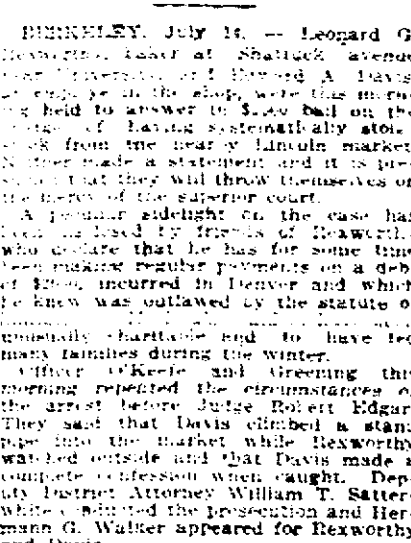

Father Curry talked briefly with Becker concerning the proposed execution. He declared the former police officer. "I know Sullivan lent money to Rosenthal. I once saw a note of Rosenthal's for $2500 given to 'Big Tim.' But I cannot see that these things have any bearing on my case now."

SOCIETY AT EXPOSITION TODAY

S. P. R. S. I. Delegates Leave Cares of Convention for Sightseeing.

Delegates to the Portuguese Santa Isabel Society in fifteenth annual convention here, answered the lure of the exposition today and with members of other Portuguese fraternal organizations are participating in S. P. R. S. I. Day at the fair.

Over one thousand five hundred Portuguese people from the convention and Oakland in general are fraternizing at the exposition. In keeping with their promise that they would entertain lavishly, members of Council Santa Isabel No. 1 were hosts at luncheon served on the exposition grounds.

Impromptu speeches marked an enjoyable hour of festivity. No attempt being made today to "talk convention," one and all the delegates being thoroughly occupied in viewing the sights.

Mrs. Maria Lemos is in charge of today's entertainment and is being assisted by Mrs. Anna F. Andre, Mrs. Maria R. Enos, Miss Anna E. S. Lemos, Mrs. Luciana F. Ambrosio and Mrs. Julia F. Freitas. Assisting in spreading the line of the exposition to the guests is Dr. Simao Lopes Ferreira, head of the Portuguese Consulate in San Francisco. The U. P. E. C. degree team's band accompanied the visitors and are giving concerts. The traffic department of the Key system provided special trains to convey the delegates from Oakland to the exposition slip, going to the fair by direct ferry.

COUNCIL DELIBERATES.
Yesterday's session of the convention was devoted to entertaining motions by the supreme council. Changes in the by-laws and constitution. These changes will not affect the excellent work of this organization, but will work toward the facilitation of detail tasks of the council. The supreme council's policy of the supreme council, information pertaining to business sessions cannot be given until after report on the same is made.

Council Santa Isabel No. 1, which is the host at the exposition today of its subordinate councils, has a membership exceeding 300, including all the most prominent Portuguese ladies of Oakland and vicinity. The officers of this council are: Ex-president, Mrs. Julia F. Freitas; president, Miss Leopoldina Rodrigues; vice-president, Mrs. Maria S. Oliveira; secretary, Mrs. Anna F. Andre; mistress of ceremonies, Miss Agnes Lemos; marshal, Mrs. Maria A. Pereira; inside guard, Mrs. Mary E. Enos; outside guard, Mrs. Luciana F. Ambrosio; Mrs. Henriqueta Silva, Mrs. Rita Rosa.

GRAND BALL PLANNED.
A grand ball in honor of supreme officers and delegates will be given in Hotel Oakland by Council Santa Isabel No. 1 tomorrow evening. The committee in charge of this affair follows: Miss Anna Enos, Miss Agnes Lemos, Mrs. Lucy Bettecourt, Mrs. Maria C. Lemos, Mrs. Julia Freitas, Mrs. Luciana F. Ambrosio, Mrs. Maria S. Oliveira and Mrs. Florence Peters.

POISONING RESULT OF SCRATCH OF PIN
CHICO, July 14.—Assistant Engineer A. A. Mason, connected with the state highway north of this city, is in the Sacramento valley hospital undergoing treatment for poisoning, which resulted from a pin scratch on his right leg. The slight wound did not seem serious at first, but yesterday his condition became alarming.

URGES MILITANT CHURCH AT "PEACE PALACE"
The lectures and pictures at the Peace palace, Fourteenth and Franklin, are still drawing large audiences. The speaker last night, J. W. McCord, said that "the place in the sun is very desirable nowadays. So much so that nations are willing to fight for it. The expression, 'A Place in the Sun' has evidently been taken from the Bible, for we read in Revelation 12:1 of a woman in the sun. 'A woman in prophecy signifies church. The church is a pure church, a fallen woman a corrupt church. In prophetic language this chapter discusses the history of the church from the time of the fall of man, down through the rise and fall of empires, to the coming of the bridegroom as king of kings.'

WAR WARNING TO USERS OF HAIR REMOVERS
Don't Experiment With So-Called Superficial Hair Removers.
If you use a simple toilet preparation and it proves to be worthless you only lose money. It is a very serious matter, however, when you use a doubtful hair remover, because it will either result in permanent disfigurement or cost you many dollars and take months or possibly years to gain control of the growth after it has been stimulated by the use of such preparations.

It is a waste of time to use pastes and rub-on preparations which merely remove hair from the surface of the skin. To rob hair of its life sustaining force, you must derivate it by attacking it under the skin as well as on the skin. Nothing but DeMiracle, the original liquid depilatory can accomplish this result.

Imitations of DeMiracle are as worthless as pastes and rub-on preparations because they lack certain ingredients that DeMiracle alone contains which give it the power to rob hair of its vitality. Remember, DeMiracle is the only depilatory that has a binding guarantee in each package which entitles you to your money back if it fails. Insist on the genuine DeMiracle and you will get the original liquid hair remover. Others are worthless imitations—refuse them.

DeMiracle is sold in 50c, $1.00 and $2.00 bottles. The larger sizes are the most economical for dermatologists and large users to buy. If your dealer will not supply you, order direct from us. The truth about the treatment of superfluous hair mailed in plain sealed envelopes on request. DeMiracle Chemical Company, Dept. E, Park Ave. & 129th St., New York.—Advertisement.

5000 CHILDREN MOURN PRELATE

Funeral of Archbishop Quigley Held in Chicago; Dignitaries Attend.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 14.—Five thousand children marched slowly under the dripping trees of North State street today, escorting the body of Archbishop James Edward Quigley from the arch-episcopal residence to the cathedral of the Holy Name.

Hundreds of adults were turned away from the cathedral to make room for the children, whose welfare was the chief interest of the late prelate's life. At the cathedral the solemn pontifical requiem mass was celebrated. The body will lie in state until tonight. Cardinal Gibbons, Papal Delegate Bonzano, and many other church dignitaries are expected to attend a pure church. A fallen woman a corrupt church. In prophetic language this chapter discusses the history of the church from the time of the fall of man, down through the rise and fall of empires, to the coming of the bridegroom as king of kings.

Army Men Make Observations on Trans-continental Tour

Conceiving the bay from Oakland to the Panama-Pacific Exposition this morning, eight armored military motor cars completed their last lap in a journey across the continent, via the Lincoln Highway, when the motor division of the Northwestern Military and Naval Academy which arrived in Oakland yesterday, boarded a ferry.

Welcomed by Mayor John L. Davis, the crews of the long line of armored and equipped autos spent the night at the Key Route Inn, where a banquet was held in their honor, and today they finished the record breaking trip to the fair.

The military train, manned by army and student officers, contained every possible type of military auto in use in modern warfare. On the long trip across the continent the officers, accompanied by auto experts and regular army officers, studied the different operations of automobile warfare, and averaged 100 miles a day.

The train included a complete military armored car carrying a machine gun, and a reconnaissance car equipped with telephone, road maps, scientific instruments and engineering conveniences. There was an aircraft destroyer car, a hospital car, a wireless car, a field kitchen, a quartermaster's car and an officer's car. Several of the cars were equipped with rapid fire rifle guns.

The party was commanded by Col. D. P. Davidson. Lieutenant G. E. Arzeman of the United States army, accompanied the company unofficially, making independent observations.

Among the other members of the party are Captain Rice, Captain How, Captain Jeffers, Lieutenant Robinson, First Sergeant Hering and Johnson, Corporals Schatzel, Cobb, Cohn, Lang, Spiesberger and Henderson, and Privates Henderson, Rocco, A. and R. Lewis, Kerne, Kates, Weyeth and Hamilton.

The motor cars, headed by Mayor Davis and his party, met the approaching military party in Dublin canyon, accompanying them into Oakland. The motor train is made up of Cadillac machines, especially equipped and armored, and in every way conforms with the latest practice in war auto design.

PLAN HIGHWAY UP MT. WHITNEY
BAKERSFIELD, July 14.—Four representatives of the state will accompany members of the Southern California Auto Club and its Kern county members on the Mount Whitney trip, to be made shortly after August 1, preliminary to definite action toward building a motor highway to the top of the highest mountain of the country.

August Crites, who has just returned from a trip to Sacramento, where he extended an invitation to Governor Johnson to make the trip, reports that the governor, through pressure of business, will be unable to go. However, the chief executive of the state will send a representative, one from the board of control, one from the state engineering department, and a fourth member from the state highway commission. Crites, who is a member of the local branch of the auto club, declared that the governor was enthusiastic in favor of the project and promises that the matter will have the backing of the state.

DECLARES BIBLE IS RIGHT UP-TO-DATE
SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—By a call for uplifted hands at the Gospel Tabernacle, Van Ness avenue and Bush streets, last night, it was shown that 25 states were represented. Dr. John McNeill, the Scotch preacher-evangelist, said that it appeared that he was not preaching to the past, but to the United States. He presented any depreciation of the Bible, declaring that it was the only text book for right living and right thinking and that it was decidedly up to date. He announced there would be a special musical program at tonight's meeting, including the Hampton Institute Jubilee Singers, and a special sermon.

URGES MILITANT CHURCH AT "PEACE PALACE"
The lectures and pictures at the Peace palace, Fourteenth and Franklin, are still drawing large audiences. The speaker last night, J. W. McCord, said that "the place in the sun is very desirable nowadays. So much so that nations are willing to fight for it. The expression, 'A Place in the Sun' has evidently been taken from the Bible, for we read in Revelation 12:1 of a woman in the sun. 'A woman in prophecy signifies church. The church is a pure church, a fallen woman a corrupt church. In prophetic language this chapter discusses the history of the church from the time of the fall of man, down through the rise and fall of empires, to the coming of the bridegroom as king of kings.'

Don't Experiment With So-Called Superficial Hair Removers.
If you use a simple toilet preparation and it proves to be worthless you only lose money. It is a very serious matter, however, when you use a doubtful hair remover, because it will either result in permanent disfigurement or cost you many dollars and take months or possibly years to gain control of the growth after it has been stimulated by the use of such preparations.

It is a waste of time to use pastes and rub-on preparations which merely remove hair from the surface of the skin. To rob hair of its life sustaining force, you must derivate it by attacking it under the skin as well as on the skin. Nothing but DeMiracle, the original liquid depilatory can accomplish this result.

Imitations of DeMiracle are as worthless as pastes and rub-on preparations because they lack certain ingredients that DeMiracle alone contains which give it the power to rob hair of its vitality. Remember, DeMiracle is the only depilatory that has a binding guarantee in each package which entitles you to your money back if it fails. Insist on the genuine DeMiracle and you will get the original liquid hair remover. Others are worthless imitations—refuse them.

AUTO WRECKED FOR COIN, IS CHARGE

Sheriff Seeks Evidence That "Accident" Was Business Scheme.

ANTIOCH, July 14.—Bit by bit evidence is being accumulated to show that the ditching of the automobile in the ravine near Somersville a few nights ago, was the alleged work of men hired by the owners, Christmas and Olds of San Jose. Detectives hired by the automobile insurance company, which carried a policy on the machine, have found that the auto cost but $500 while a policy for $1500 had been taken out on it.

The owners reported that the machine was stolen and endeavored to collect the insurance. The search for the machine then began and the detectives had discovered that it had left the Pantages theater in Oakland and had been driven to Somersville and were on the way there to investigate when the boys reported finding it at the bottom of the ravine.

When Under Sheriff Wm. Yeale was notified the machine was found he instructed Deputy Sheriff Preston of Antioch to go to the scene. Preston found that the self starter and various other parts had been taken by some Italians.

He decided to constantly keep watch over the auto and he had not long to wait before the returned for more loot. Preston lined them up at the end of his gun and threatened to put them in jail if they did not return the auto fixtures.

Yesterday they came back with the goods. They were a number of Italian youths from Pittsburg. They were not
